Troy Western Puts 'Thunk' Into Folk-Rock With ROCKS & FIELDS Tour

St. Catharines, ON (May 29, 2010) – The ROCKS & FIELDS TOUR kicks off the summer live music season with two singer-songwriters taking their individual folk-rock styles to the east coast of Canada. Troy Western and Myke & The Mod Villains head from Ontario to the east coast of Canada to rock two weeks of tour dates, including stops in Quebec, New Brunswick, P.E.I., Nova Scotia, and Ontario.

This tour features new albums from each artist, with "Rocks In A Bucket" from Troy and "Fields" from Myke. The two bands will soak up the welcoming east coast music vibe while they bounce around to numerous places sharing their music, promoting their new albums, and for Troy, exploring some of his roots. While their eclectic selection of venues include bars, pubs, and coffeeshops, the ROCKS & FIELDS TOUR will also be welcomed into at least one home for a house show, which happens to fall on Troy's birthday.

The ROCKS & FIELDS TOUR began in Ontario this past March with two CD release shows for Troy's "Rocks In A Bucket" album in Toronto and St. Catharines, and was followed up with a performance in London, Ontario, a multi-band event in St. Catharines, and one more show in St. Catharines for the Victoria Day long weekend in May. The tour continues as they hit the road and head across Canada, performing first in Montreal, Quebec on June 3, then New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, and Nova Scotia. The tour then heads for home, but not before making stops in Ottawa and elsewhere in Ontario. The final show and tour closing party for the ROCKS & FIELDS TOUR will be celebrated in St. Catharines on Friday, June 18, 2010. Full tour listings are posted at www.TroyWestern.com.
